

Outreach Services at the Marshall District Library

The Marshall District Library's Outreach Service provides free delivery of materials to a patron's home.

Materials available for delivery include: books and audiobooks.

To be eligible for Outreach Service an individual must:

- Reside in the Marshall District Library service area or pay an annual non-resident fee
- Be a library cardholder in good standing
- Be homebound due to age, long-term illness or disability for a period of at least six weeks

Outreach services may be discontinued or modified for safety reasons or if the purpose for the service is not being met.

To get started, please fill out the attached application and mail it to:

Application for Outreach Service

A free home delivery service of library materials is available to those who reside within the Marshall District Library service area and who are unable to come to the Library. If you or members of your family are confined by age, long-term illness or disability for a period of at least six weeks, you are eligible for this service.

Materials will be selected to match your interests. Monthly deliveries will be made by a Marshall District Library staff member.
